Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey and Other Speakers Advocate Single Code of Morals.

"One of the most serious problems that confronts the Washington public schools is sex education," said Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey, for six years a member of the Washington Board of Education, before the Sex Educational League meeting this morning at the New Church in connection with the annual convention of the Church of the New Jerusalem.

"Injury to the child's mind, in most cases, is done before the age of twelve." said Mrs. Mussey. "What is needed to correct that is that the parents shall impress the child with the fact that certain human relations are too sacred to be discussed with playmates or with

Mrs. Mussey said she was not sure

Mrs. Mussey said she was not sure that sex hygiene lectures in the lower school grades were beneficial, but that such teaching in the high schools, by a lecturer brought here from Goucher College, had been highly beneficial.

"The keynote of all education in sex should be the teaching of a single code of morals for both sexes," asserted Mrs. Lucia Faxon Additon, a social service worker and suffragist from Portland, Ore. "If we can once stamp out the double standard of morals, sex education will take a great forward step."

The teaching of sex education as a part of nature study was characterized as the most important step in recent years by the Rev. Paul Dresser, of New York, president of the league. "Such teaching follows the trend of all modern education." he said. "and all modern education." he said, "and this trend is against the isolation and abstraction that marked much earlier teaching to a unification and applica-tion of scientific truths."

In a paper prepared by the Brooklyn chapter and read by Dr. Dresser modern tendencies in sex education were summed up as follows:

Mayor Edward Devlin, in his inaugura! speech last night, suggested that the mayor and common council take the citizens of the town into consideration in the discussion of important questions. He said, in part:

"As guardians of Hyattsville, we have a task which is not arduous if we work in harmony, and as a unit for the good of all concerned. Our labors alone will not suffice unless we have the hearty co-operation of our citizens. #### Came to Her Rescue

From her home in Mountain Park, Okiahoma, Mrs. O. A. Strange writes to the Pinus laboratories:

"I am taking Fruitola and Traxo for gall-stones with good results. If it had not been that it came to my rescue, would have been dead I am sure. I cannot say too much for Fruitola and Traxo."

Fruitola possesses properties that act directly upon the intestinal paris. It is a great system cleanser, softening the congested waste and disintegrating the hardened particles that cause so much suffering, and quickly expels the accumulation to the intense relief of the patient. Traxo is a tonic alterative that acts on the liver and kidneys, stimulates the flow of gastrie juices to sid digestion and removes bile from the general circulation. It serves to build up and strengthen the weakened, run-down system.

For the convenience of the public, arrangements have been made to supply Fruitola and Traxo through leading druggists. In Washington they can be obtained at O'Donnell's Drug Store, 904 F St. N. W.
